I've relished the idea of myself on commercial ads." It is better to get lots of mail than no mail at all, some of it upsets me. Now, for example, I am in receipt of all manner of brochures and personal letters from old boys to operate some of the ads it was our joy to visit in most. All rave about wonderful things they have in their this approaching season and want us to "come on down."

* * *

Speaking of leaving what records we have. We went in and registered at a certain Chesapeake motel. The clerk said, "Oh Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, it's good to see you again. You haven't been here for almost six years ago." At breakfast, the dining room waiter quietly got us the same "Special Check" we had four years before! At such places, you order three days or a week in advance, I assigned a table and I guess that's it. I brought some of the table signs: Reserved for Mr. and Mrs. Robinson. It makes the guest feel important!

Morgan City, La., we checked into a motor court and the manager escorted us to our room and helped us unload, and then and finally said, "Sir, I'm glad that you registered as from Appomattox, Virginia." I replied that was correct. Then he stood on for half an hour, and he said his father had been with Lee at Appomattox until his dying day, always talked about Appomattox and the meeting General Lee have with Grant. He said he would consider his Great Army, right on first row are Robert Brown, James Harse, Whitehead, Pat Wells, Nancy Jo Kidd, Blaine Carter, Burks, Harry Ranson, John Harrison, and Tony Mann. Second row are Margaret Johnson, Linda Thomas, Phelps, Thomas Richardson, James McCormick, Robertson, Mary McClenny, Randoph Smith, Kyle Richard Harris, John Alvis, Mary Ranson. In the row: Allen Conner, Thacker Cheatham, Bill Stratton, Crawley, Mary Watkins Booth, and Barbara Thomas.

Churches Learn Of Rev. Mr. Withers' Retirement Soon

The Rt. Rev. David S. Rose, D. D., Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, has notified the senior wardens of St. Anne's Episcopal Church, in Appomattox; Emmanuel Episcopal Church at Glenmore and Grace Episcopal Church at Manteo, Buckingham county that the Rev. Robert E. Withers, Jr., of Farmville, rector of these three churches, will retire from the ministry at the end of July.

His services as priest-in-charge will end on June 30, but his formal retirement will not be until July 31, after a month's vacation.

Rev. Mr. Withers has been with these Episcopal churches since 1928 when he came as a deacon.

New Deacon Named

Jack D. Adams, Jr., newly graduated from the Episcopal Seminary, will take over the three churches. He will devote a part of his time to the college students in Farmville.

Mr. Adams is married and there are two teen-age daughters in the family. He will come here as a deacon.

Bishop Rose has asked Rev. Mr. Withers to conduct the communion service in the three churches until Mr. Adams is ordained a priest.

Norris Appointed Superintendent Fort Smith Historic Site In Ark.

Thomas F. Norris Jr., Superintendent, Appomattox Court House National Historical Park, Virginia, has been named the first Superintendent of Fort Smith National Historic Site, Arkansas, according to an announcement by Nlional Park Service Director Conrad L. Wirth.

The establishment of this historic site was authorized by Public Law 87-215 signed by President Kennedy on September 13, 1961. The President himself accepted the deed to the land of Old Fort Smith when he visited the fort on October 26, 1961.

This bastion of the Southwestern frontier from 1817 to 1827 became the center of law enforcement and judicial activity for Indian Territory between 1872 and 1896.

Thomas F. Norris, Jr., Superintendent, Appomattox Court House National Historical Park, has been named first National Historic Site, Arkansas.

The Fort was of log construction built in 1817 at 'La Belle Point,' the junction of the Arkansas and Poteau Rivers. It was abandoned in 1838 and a second fort of brick and stone was established a short distance east of the first structure. Fort Smith was garrisoned until 1871 when the U. S. Criminal Court of the Western District of Arkansas was moved there and housed in one of the fort buildings.

Superintendent Norris has been at Appomattox since March 1961. Prior to that he was chief park ranger at Mammoth Cave National Park, Kentucky. He began his National Park Service career in 1946 at Shenandoah National Park, Virgin'a, as park ranger, later becoming district ranger. In 1956 he was transferred to Great Smoky Mountains National Park, Tennessee - North Carolina, as district ranger where he remained until his appointment at Mammoth Cave National Park in 1957.

A native of Wilmington, Delaware Norris served with the Army in the Pacific during World War II. He attended the University of Virginia. Norris was accompanied to Fort Smith by his wife, 'Nan' and their three children.

Wingfield Is New Member

Dr. F R. Lawson, mayor of Appomattox for the past two years, led the balloting in Tuesday's election with 316 votes. Five incumbent Councilmen were returned to office. The sixth incumbent, C. Lewis McDearmon, did not run. His place was filled by Richard L. Wingfield, former acting postmaster of Appomattox, and presently an employee of G. E.'s Finance Department, Lynchburg.

Of the 382 votes cast, Henry B. Pack, head of the Vocational Agriculture Dept., Appomattox High School, led the council vote with 288. Next was Mrs. Earle P. Robinson, assistant to the publisher of the TIMES-VIRGINIAN with 282. Ivey Holland, secretary - treasurer of J. E. Sears and Co., received 268. Burke Guill, salesman for Moses' Motor Co. won with 253 votes, and Wingfield joined the council with 229.

Ewen T. Mitchell, taxi owner and former deputy sheriff received 179. Harry G. Johnson, retired Standard Oil Co. plant superintendent received 141, and John R. Garrett, mortician and funeral director in Lynchburg received 155.

A Few Write - Ins

A few write-in votes were recorded: For Mayor, Grover E. Smith, 3 votes; C. Lewis McDearmon, 4 votes, and P. L. Murphy, 2 votes.

Balloting was considerably lighter than 1961's record vote of 495. Registrar W. Twyman Coleman said that about 600 voters were eligible to cast ballots.

The new Council will convene on September 1, 1963.

5 Days In New York

Times-Virginia Campaign With New York Trip As Goal

It is true! Five exciting days in the biggest city in the United States. Traveling with a congenial group from this area, you will do things you have always wanted to do A trip up Shenandoah Valley to Luray Carverns, tours and shows in New York; and an evening out in the swankiest night clubs in New York City.

Best of all, it is all paid for. You have no money worries. All you do is join the crowd and have a wonderful vacation.

What could be more wonderful than a five-day trip to New York will all expenses paid? A tour up the historic and scenic Shenandoah Valley of Virginia? That is what The Times-Virginian has planned for he members of the Times-Va. New York Club in exchange for a few days of concentrated work gathering subscriptions for the Times-Virginian.

The campaign begins today and closes July 19.

Had a Good Time

Club members from Appomattox will join a party from Farmville on the New York Tour. The Times-Virginian feels fortunate in being able to join with the Farmville party, which is sponsored by The Farmville Herald. It is expected that at least 37 will bo in the party, which will be personally conducted by J. B. Wall, editor of The Farmville Herald.

The Herald's New York Tours are well known as it has conducted them periodically for many years. Invariably the club members who earn this trip have a wonderful time for five big days.

Five Day Trip

There, you will be taken on a boat ride across New York Harbor to Bedloe's Island to visit the Statue of Liberty, and a view of the New York Harbor and lower Manhattan Skyline.

The afternoon will be free. After dinner you will visit the glamorous Music Hall Theatre in the evening, with the famous Dancing Rockettes.

Thursday, August 1, a tour will be made of uptown New York, passing Rockefeller Center, Radio City, the fashionable Fifth Avenue shopping district, Millionaire's Row, Columbia University, and Harlem, stopping at Cathedral of St. John the Divine. You end up at Radio City, with the fastest elevators in the world, and a breathtaking view of New York City.

The evening will be spent on a tour of "NITE LIFE," with dinner at the fabulous Latin Quarter, with two floor sehows and dancing. Then to Sammy's Night Club on the Bowery, to hear the good old songs by former stars. Concluding at the gay Hawaiian Room of Hotel Lexington.

Bright and early Friday morning, on August 2, the party will leave for home by chartered bus, via New Jersey turnpike to Washington and Richmond.

If you are 18 to 65 years old, you can join the club and earn this trip. Send in your entry coupon today. The early bird gets the worm. See P-3 for entry blank and come in today.

BYRON BABCOCK

Byron Babcock Plans Tour, Summer Study

Mr. Byron Babcock will sail aboard the S. S. United States for Southampton, England on June. After a two-week tour of the British Isles, Mr. Babcock will spend six weeks at Stratford-on-Avon, where he will study Shakespeare and Elizabethan drama as a member of a graduate seminar for American and European students and teachers. At the end of summer school, Mr. Babcock will visit Paris before flying to New York the last week in August. Mr. Babcock, who teaches ninth and eleventh-grade English at Norfolk Academy, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Babcock, Appomattox.

Budget Hearing Held By County Supervisors

County Supervisors meeting Wednesday morning had only two persons appear before them with regard to their proposed budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Welfare Head Appears

Mrs. Hazel Mann, superintendent of the county Welfare Board said that the Board was asking only about $400 increase in this year's budget from the county. Present county portion of the Welfare Department's budget, including payments to clients and administration expenses, is approximately $35,000. "We're not spending all of that," said Mrs. Mann. "The increase we're requesting, mainly, is to keep salaries of our personnel in line with other counties in Virginia."

She explained that many counties the size of Appomattox have two caseworkers— that this county has only one. "I think in this county we do try to investigate cases thoroughly, and we do it with just one caseworker."

Martin Requests Vouchers

Supervisor O. W. Martin, Jr. with the approval of the other supervisors, requested that Mrs. Mann, during the coming year, submit a duplicate of the payment vouchers issued from the Welfare Office. The supervisors approve each month's anticipated expenses and Martin said it would be helpful to have this. These vouchers, Mrs. Mann explained, include clients' to whom payments are made, salaries of personnel, and other expenses.

Old Dormitory Repairs

School superintendent Earl Smith asked the Supervisors to consider the need for repairs for the Old Dormitory, now a part of Appomatox High School. Smith stated that the present school budget will probably cover essential repairs and renovation for the setting up of the new director of instruction's office. He, said, however, that expert appraisal needs to be made of the old dormitory. Each room is now being used, he said, and "it might be well to remodel the inside over the next few years. The wiring is bad and plumbing is bad," Smith added. "If the walls and foundations are sound, the dormitory could be fixed up. The football players need another place, beside the gym for a field house."

"I believe," Smith said, "that for the interest on a new building, we could repair the old dormitory."

Loan Authorited

The Supervisors authorized the county treasurer to borrow up to $30,000, if needed, to balance the fiscal year's expenses. Garland Plunkett, the treasurer, had previously stated that he did not know whether this sum or any funds would be needed.

MOSES DINKINS

VPI Graduate

Moses Dinkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gilbert Dinkins, of Appomattox, received a Bachelor of Science degree in Electrical Engineering from Virginia Polytechnic Institute Sunday. For the past five years, Moses has been active in the Co - operative Engineering Program spending three months in school then three months in industry working for G.E. in Lynchburg. While at VPI, he was a member of the Amateur Radio Association, Coop Engineering Society, American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and the Lynchburg Club of VPI.

Moses' future plans are to attend six weeks of ROTC Summer Camp at Ft. Bragg, North Carolina after which he will be commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in the U. S. Army. He has accepted an Engineering position with the General Electric Company in Lynchburg and will begin work there after ROTC Camp.
